

Andrew I. E. Ewoh

Bio for Dr. Andrew Ewoh ;

Andrew I. E. Ewoh earned his PhD and MA in political economy from the University of Texas at Dallas, an MPA in public administration from Southern University in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and a BS in business administration from the University of Louisiana at Lafayette.

Before joining the faculty at Texas Southern University, he was the Director of the Master of Public Administration Program and Professor of Public Administration, and the Co-Director of the MBA/MPA Dual Degree Program at Kennesaw State University (KSU) in Georgia

Prior to KSU, he was the Political Science Program Coordinator and Professor at Prairie View A&M University in Texas, and held visiting professor positions at the National University of Political Studies and Public Administration in Bucharest, Romania, as well as at the University of Fort Hare, South Africa. He was formerly a visiting scholar at the University of Iowa, and served on adjunct faculty positions at the University of Houston-Clear Lake; the University of Texas at Dallas; Richland College, Dallas; and the Lone Star College, Texas. A Fulbright Specialist in public administration for the Council for International Exchange of Scholars.

Professor Ewoh's other public service professional accomplishments include, but are not limited to, chairing several committees, serving on panels, various journal editorial boards, and participating in executive councils of regional and national organizations. He is a former president of the Conference of Minority Public Administrators and served on the National Council of the American Society for Public Administration, the Executive Council of the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs, and Administration (NASPAA), and NASPAA's Commission on Peer Review and Accreditation. He is the immediate past Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Public Management & Social Policy, and currently serves as the Editor of both the African Social Science Review and the Ralph Bunche Journal of Public Affairs. He is a recipient of several honors and awards, and is listed on Who's Who Among America's Teachers, Who's Who in American Education, Who's Who in America, and Who's Who in the World. Professor Ewoh is recognized as a Fellow of the Academy of Political Science; duly initiated into the Global Honor Society for Public Affairs and Administration, and is a life member of the American Society for Public Administration. He has authored several book chapters and his articles have appeared in Review of Policy Research, Public Personnel Management, Review of Public Personnel Administration, International Journal of Economic Development, Theoretical & Applied Economics, Public Performance & Management Review, Public Works Management & Policy, and numerous scholarly journals..