Welcome back to the Spring, 2019 semester at TSU! We hope you all had a wonderful winter break, spending time focusing on family, friends, and self-care. The first week of courses can be stressful and overwhelming; taking care of university paperwork, reading all the syllabi, while balancing family and work responsibilities. There is also a lot happening on the national level as a result of the government shut-down, causing added stress for not only government workers, but also those who depend on a variety of government programs to meet their basic needs.

That being said, during this semester, we encourage all of you to be intentional about strategies to succeed in your courses, actively practice self-care, and help connect others to community resources. It is important to maintain your own wellness as an individual. In addition, one of our core values in social work is Service, so we encourage you to help connect others with community resources. This semester, the Social Work department has created a "Student Resources" tab in the Social Work Majors blackboard, in which resources are being posted that help with basic needs, mental health needs, and free community events and services. We encourage you all to browse through this tab of resources each week, to find resources for yourself, or pass-on to others in the community who are in-need. Remember... support and connection to resources is key to bio-psycho-social functioning! Let's focus on being intentional, utilizing our resources/support systems, so that nothing stands in your way of having a successful semester. ¡Adelante!

Social Work Faculty– New Members of Our Team!

Mr. Byron Parker, BASW, MSW, LMSW, ACSW, CATC, RAS has worked in the human and social service arena for over 30 years. He has served on the faculty of California State University Northridge Graduate School of Social Work and he worked for 10 years as an Assistant Professor of Social Work at Texas Southern University (TSU) from 1999 to 2009. Byron is both a TSU alum and a UH alum. In 2007 he was accepted into the Doctoral program at the UH--GCSW where he completed two years of course work as a Ph.D. social work student, prior to withdrawing from the program in good standing to relocate to California. During his time in Los Angeles he worked in the nonprofit sector serving as a Program Director with the City of Los Angeles' Gang Reduction and Youth Development (GRYD) Program in South Central, LA. Other professional activities included work with the juvenile justice system, gang intervention, adolescent substance abuse treatment, human trafficking, violence prevention and social work education. Byron is a veteran social worker, psychotherapist, Community organizer and educator. In 2018, Mr. Parker returned to TSU as an adjunct professor in the Department of Social Work.

Priscilla R. Gilbert, LMSW received a BSW from UHCL in 2010, and MSW from UH GCSW in 2012. She has been a LMSW since 2012. As a student, her focus was working with communities and health disparities. Although she initially worked with cancer patients, she quickly realized that in the professional realm, the issue was too close to her personal experiences, so she evolved to working with transplant education. This led her to working with kidney patients. Priscilla began at UTMB as a Renal Specialist working with patients and families affected by End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD), and being a part of the multi-disciplinary teams serving them. In her role as part of the interdisciplinary team, she educates Residents and Fellows on empathy skills with patients facing medical crises. In 2015, she started a worked at DaVita Kidney Care, assisting patients on dialysis, and was able to utilize skills working with patients one-on-one. Currently, Priscilla serves
